Editorial Policy

Pacific Studies is published twice yearly by the Institute for Polynesian Studies, Brigham Young University--Hawaii Campus, Laie, Hawaii, 96762, but responsibility for opinions expressed in the articles rests with the writers alone. Pacific Studies is interested in all aspects of Pacific cultures including art, literature, music, folklore, anthropology, history, archaeology, political science, and musicology. Articles submitted to the editor should be in the original typewritten copy, double spaced, and arranged according to the recognized, scholarly style of its particular field.

Subscription rate is US $5.00. Accounts payable to the Institute for Polynesian Studies should be sent to the editor. Articles submitted to the editor should be the original typewritten copy, double spaced, following a recognized, scholarly style. Books for review should also be sent to the editor.

The Institute for Polynesian Studies is a joint organization supported both by the Brigham Young University--Hawaii Campus and the Polynesian Cultural Center. The major part of the expenses of publishing Pacific Studies is underwritten by the Cultural Center through the Institute. The Institute assists the Center in meeting its cultural and educational goals by undertaking a program of teaching, research, and publication. The Institute cooperates with other scholarly and research institutions in achieving its objectives. It publishes monographs, produces films, underwrites research, and sponsors conferences on the Pacific islands. Further information on the activities of the Institute may be obtained by writing to its Director, Jerry K. Loveland, at the address above.
