I shall not be in town on Saturday to have the pleasure of dining with you.

Please send me the duplicates or the protests of the second bills - Mr. May wishes to see them to get rid of the importunities of the great paper that ever exists -

Low produced a letter yesterday from you to prove himself entitled to the damages - The Mayor read it, but could discover no such proof in it -

Our friend Mr. Livingston has given his opinion that the £10 percent damages are in lieu of all costs of protest interest & expenses until the return of the bills - The resolution to the Chamber of Commerce in 1768 seems to support this Idea - I do not consider it as a matter of much moment, as I can hardly think Low will redeem by the time fixed in the decree -
