Friday Evening .

Dearest Katie

How failliful you are . & how Sweet of you to send those lovely roses . They came last night & I took them
to day when I went.
I cannot tell you how much it means to me to have our precious boy remembered like that. & just because you were his friend I like you to be his little brother's friend too. & it was so nice having

you on Wednesday.
I knew you were
thinking of Campbell.
It is so strange how this wee boy seems in a way to keep Campbell

(if possible). more
constantly with us than ever. Now that he is more of a little person, we think they are wonderfully
alike in many ways.

I do feel for you
dear Katie wish I was in his deciding of your plans. but you will be guided rightly, I am sure.

We have never heard
yet from this cousin of Duncan's. I shall write him whenever we do. I spent 2 hours

with Janie at Charing X. Hotel Cash Evening.
She looks quite a different
being I am glad to say, since I saw her in June.
Christopher is in
no confusion over his many tops but knows exactly what came from Kabey Bell etc.
The apple ball & the rabbit are great

favourites. the former he has been taking out in his pram.

Many many thanks
dear Katie for all your goodness, & your faithful friendship
which I value more than I can say
